"ARBAMAR" OFFICIAL TITLE CAMP GROUNDS

ASSEMBLY OFFICERS DECIDE TO CHANGE NAME.

SEASON OPENS JUNE 28TH

Holiness Association Here First; Epworth League Next; Old Veterans Will Camp August 6th to 15th; Season Will Close Aug. 25th.

The official name for the camp grounds is now "Arbamar," the official board of the Huntington Beach Methodist Assembly deciding on that name at a meeting a short time ago. The name is the Spanish meaning for woods or beautiful forest, and is an applicable one, as the rapid growth of the trees has converted the tract into a forest in a few years.

The two big attractions of the camping season are the coming of the Grand Old Veterans and the Methodists of Southern California, and these organizations will no doubt be the big drawing cards again this year.

According to information furnished by Rev. F. D. Mather, who will have charge of "Arbamar" this year, the camping season will include the following events:

Holiness Association camp meeting will open Friday, June 28th, and will close on Monday, July 8th.

Epworth League Institute, Monday, July 15, to Sunday, July 21, inclusive.

Methodist camp meeting, July 21 to August 4.

Southern California Veteran Association, August 6 to August 15, inclusive.

Advent Christian Church Conference, August 16 to August 25.

LIEUTENANT BLODGET MADE A MASTER MASON.

FATHER WAS MASTER OF THE LODGE.

Lieutenant Lewis William Blodget took advantage of his 10-days' furlough from Camp Fremont, Palo Alto, and joined Huntington Beaech lodge No. 380, F. & A. M., being raised to the sublime degree of a Master Mason, Monday night. He is the third young man in the service who has been given the work in short order. Marvin J. Weilenman and William Keseman, Jr., were given the degrees before entering the service. Mr. Blodget broke all records as to time, as he was given the first degree Wednesday night and the second Saturday night.

An interesting feature about the meeting Monday night was the fact that S. L. Blodget, father of the candidate, was acting master of the lodge and conferred the important work of that degree upon his son. It is also interesting to know that this was the fourth occasion when Mr. Blodget had occupied the station in the east while a son was the candidate. There are, perhaps, few parallels in Masonic history.

Refreshments were served in the banquet room after the session, having been prepared by Mrs. R. H. Chapin, Mrs. J. O. Pyle, Mrs. W. S. Thomson and Mrs. S. L. Blodget. Lieutenant Blodget was seated at the head of the table, with his father on his right and mother on his left.

Richard Drew, master of the lodge, acted as toastmaster, and called on about everybody in the room for a speech, and the following are reported to have talkeed, spoken or said something: Mr. and Mrs. Blodget, Mrs. Pylee, Mrs. Chapin, Lieutenant Blodget, President of the Board of Trustees E. E. French, W. Dean Johnston, R. L. Obarr, Charles Promenchenkel, J. O. Pyle, Geo. W. Moore, A. W. Griffith, City Treasurer C. E. Lavering, Dr. G. A. Shank, J. K. McDonald, Jas. J. Hunt, Warren J. Bristol, E. R. Bradbury, Dr. R. H. Chapin, W. S. Thomson, J. A. McCoy, Joseph Vavra, C. S. Bundschuh, W. E. Gerhart, Jas. J. Conrad.

ANOTHER BOY TO BE ADDED TO THE LIST.

The name of George Woodington, nephew of H. Woodington of the Golden West ranch at Smeltzer and Mrs. E. R. Bradbury of Wintersburg, has been overlooked in making up the list of Liberty boys from this district. George is with the 68th areo squad at Riverside.

WHISKEY, CIGARETS AND EXAMINER ARE BARRED.

NEWS DECLINES TO PUBLISH AD FROM HEARST.

Several years ago the editor of the News placed liquor and cigarets on the list of undesirable business, and, while this attitude has been followed by some loss in revenue for the newspapers he has been identified with, the move has never been regretted.

This week another one has been added to this list, being the publications controlled by William Randolph Hearst.

A big ad was received through the Dake Advertising Agency of Los Angeles for the Los Angeles Examiner, in defense of Mr. Hearst and his periodicals. Such agencies are entitled to a discount from the regular advertising rates, but the order for the insertion of this ad allowed the full rate, showing how anxious the Examiner is to obtain some publicity in other newspapers.

The newspapers and magazines published by Mr. Hearst have long ago been prohibited from circulating in England, France and Canada, and the tide has at last turned against them in the United States, and no power on earth can prevent them from being engulfed in the cauldron of indignation that is seething from the Atlantic to the Pacific.

Mr. Hearst controls the following publications, with a total average daily circulation of 2,572,885 for the Hearst newspapers, and a total average circulation per issue of 2,281,627 for the Hearst magazines:

Newspapers:
The New York American.
The New York Evening Journal.
The Chicago Herald and Examiner.
The Chicago American.
The Boston Advertiser.
The Boston American.
The Atlanta Georgian.
The Atlanta American.
The San Francisco Examiner.
The Los Angeles Examiner.
The New York Deutsches Journal (discontinued April 21, 1918).

Magazines:
The Cosmopolitan.
Good Housekeeping.
Harper's Bazar.
Hearst's.

A. W. GRIFFITH HAS DISPOSED OF APARTMENTS.

J. N. JACKSON OF SAN FRANCISCO NEW OWNER.

A. W. Griffith, general manager of the La Bolsa Tile Co., has disposed of his apartments, at Twelfth and Ocean avenue. The deal has been in escrow for several weeks, but was only completed Monday, when the titles were finally perfected. Mr. Griffith built the apartments in the summer of 1913, being the first modern ones to be constructed in Huntington Beach.

Mr. Griffith takes in exchange a half interest in 100 acres of land, 63 acres of which are in the city limits of Riverside, being but 1⅞ miles from the principal bank corner in the city. The land is now used for pasture, but will be drained and developed by Mr. Griffith. Mr. and Mrs. Griffith will continue to reside in one of the apartments. Mr. Jackson does not expect to reside here, having taken the property as an investment.

NEW TRENCH DIGGING MACHINE SOON TO ARRIVE.

I. J. CLARK WILL HAVE AN UP-TO-DATE OUTFIT.

I. J. Clark, the contractor who makes a specialty of laying drain tile in Southern California, has ordered a new trench digging machine, which was due to arrive in Los Angeles, Thursday, and will probably be ready for operation some time next week.

Mr. Clark has been very successful during the past year, using an old model digger, and will no doubt be much more so with the added up-to-date equipment.

The wheels of the new machine are so constructed that it will pass over boggy ground that could not be crossed with the old outfit. A trench 5½ feet in depth can be dug with the machine.

This new machine was shipped from Findlay, Ohio, and will be unloaded at Westminster, where an 8-acre tract owned by the San Pedro Lumber Co. will be tiled and the digger thoroughly tested.

GRADUATION EXERCISES ARE LARGELY ATTENDED

IN GRAMMAR SCHOOL AUDITORIUM FRIDAY NIGHT.

TWO SCHOOLS PARTICIPATED

Twenty-five Graduates From Huntington Beach, Four from Springdale School Comprise Class; Fine Address by Judge Copeland.

Almost everybody is interested in the public schools, whether they have children in them or not, which accounts for the fact that there was a capacity audience at the graduating exercises in the Grammar school auditorium Friday evening of last week.

One might imagine that most of the flowers in Southern California were on the stage on this occasion, as they were banked up in great profusion; and as they were passed over to the 29 graduates by girls of the seventh grade, it appeared as though each of the 29 students received from half a dozen to a wagon load of bouquets, the tokens of esteem expressed by relatives and friends.

Each number of the program was appreciated, and it was necessary for Miss Davenport, who had charge of the music, to state that no encores would be given. The program indicated the splendid training the pupils in the schools have received. The class of the Springdale school was accompanied by Mrs. W. R. Stanley, principal of the school.

Harold H. Campbell, principal of the Grammar school, presided, and said that the class had decided that there was no use in going away to secure a speaker when there was good talent at home, and he then introduced Judge Copeland, who undoubtedly delivered one of the most practical talks ever heard in Huntington Beach on a similar occasion, and there have been college presidents and other big men here in the past.

Judge Copeland has been considered a big man since the day he arrived in this city, but he grew considerably in the estimation of those who heard him on this happy occasion. It was a fortunate day for this community when Judge Copeland decided to drop anchor here.

In beginning his talk, Judge Copeland said he did not know why the class had decided to ask him to talk to them, unless it was because he was one of the "four-minute men" and might limit his remarks to that period of time.

He said the great question with children at the age of members of the classes was not what about the future, but tomorrow. Should they continue in school or drop out, as statistics showed that more pupils quit school at that time of life than any other. "Why an education?" he said, had been asked since the time of Solomon, 3000 years ago. An education, Judge Copeland said, assisted one in enjoying life. Botany, he stated, was an intensely interesting study in a land of flowers and beautiful plant life such as abounds in the Southland. And geology would also be valuable to every one, and astronomy was another one of the great subjects that would interest all who studied it. The great glass on Mt. Wilson, he said, magnified 8000 times, and brought the moon within 30 miles of the observers.

He told of his friend "Joe" in Wisconsin, whom the political bosses had decided to send to the legislature, and when the proposed candidate was informed he said, "No, I cannot accept the honor, as I have not the education."

He quoted from "Who's Who In America," which showed that there was absolutely no show for the man to ever become mentioned who failed to at least finish the eighth grade, and then if he dropped out of the education race, there was but one chance in 10,000. The High school graduate stood one chance in 400 and the college man one in 50.

He quoted figures showing that the earning capacity of the boy at 14 without any education was $200 per annum, and the one who had attended school $250. At 18 the wages are $500 and $350; 21 years, $750 and $470; 22 years, $1000 and $525; 24 years, $1150 and $600; 25 years, $1550 and $688.

There were two ways of getting an education, Judge Copeland informed his audience, one by attending school and getting the benefit of what others knew, and the other to bump up against the world problems and get it yourself. Abraham Lincoln was often cited as a self-made man, but the chance of one educating themselves in that way in this age, he said, was an impossibility.

There was a tendency, he said, on the part of some graduates of the elementary schools to go direct to business college, but this, he said, was a mistake, and he cited Kyle Howard, who was cashier of the First National Bank prior to entering the service at Camp Lewis, who decided on such a course, but returned to the High school after an absence of two years and finished the course, and had never regretted that he did so.

There was no excuse, he said, for children not attending school in California, as taxpayers are extremely liberal in providing schools, there apparently being no limit.

Judge Copeland said there was nothing that appealed to him so much as the American school, and the finished product made the Kaiser take notice.

There is now the greatest opportunity in the world for girls, said the speaker, and he cited one of the largest banks in Los Angeles, where about one-half the employes are now women and girls.

There is no excuse for not obtaining an education, as the boy who has no money can work his way through college, there being officials that looked for places for those who desired to earn their tuition.

However, said Judge Copeland, there are some things that come in and spoil life, notwithstanding the education, and therefore all must take a decided stand on the moral question. He advised the class members if they had never tasted liquor never to do so, and if they had to discontinue the habit.

The next economic question to be considered after the liquor question would be the tobacco habit, which, he said, would hit a good many of us. He told of being in St. Paul one time, and, taking notice of the men that passed one of the busy corners, found that seven out of every ten men used tobacco in some form. Young boys, he said, should not be allowed to use tobacco in violation of the state law. He especially admonished boys not to acquire the cigaret habit, which was a filthy one. Judge Copeland stated he was not opposed to cigarets being sent to the boys in the trenches who were addicted to the habit before entering the service, but did oppose sending them to the boys who did not use them.

He told a good tobacco story that is worth repeating. He was clerk at a sale on a Wisconsin farm, and when riding one very cold morning with the auctioneer, he told him he should smoke a clay pipe to keep his nose warm, and the salesman said at one time there was a girl whom he admired, and in fact he still admired her. He popped the question to her one day, and she said, "Sam, you know I have spoken to you several times about your using tobacco, and you have not quit. If you think more of tobacco than of me there will be no wedding day." Sam was very indignant, asked for his hat and left, never expecting to return. However, in due time he changed his mind, and told the brave girl that he had decided that she was sweeter than tobacco, and he was ready to name the day on her terms. He said he had found that his tobacco was costing him 6 cents a day, and if the money was placed at compound interest in 18 years he could buy a home worth $1500, and he believed that would be just the thing to do, and he carried out the plan and bought the home.

Judge Copeland admonished the students to live within their means and not run in debt; advised them to be patriotic and serve their fellow-man. Above all else, he emphasized the fact that they must be honest if they hoped to be successful in life. In the banking business, he said, one person would come in and ask for a loan, and the committee to whom it was referred would say you must discount what that person says about 50 per cent. Another comes along and the committee says you can believe any statement he makes.

He hoped that each graduate would continue school work for eight years more.

Judge Copeland complimented the school board and faculty for the wonderful work being done in the school.

VERY LITTLE CHANGE IN SCHOOL SITUATION

ABSENT MEMBER OF BOARD TO RETURN SOON.

DR. HUFF CAUSE OF TROUBLE

County Supt. R. P. Mitchell States That He Considers Mr. Brown Good Educator; No Cause Has Been Assigned For His Removal.

The High school question continues to be the chief topic of discussion, and will until it is settled and settled right.

There is an army of about 1,000,000 Liberty boys fighting on foreign soil at this time for liberty and justice, and that is exactly what the war in this school district is being waged for and just the reason why it will continue until truth and justice has prevailed over intrigue and wrong.

One man has caused the world war, and one man has caused the trouble in the High school. The world has decided to eliminate the Kaiser, and the citizens of this district have decided that there must be a change in the chairmanship of the High school board, and that result will be accomplished as surely as the sun continues to shine. It may not occur tomorrow or next week, but will materialize in due time.

Now, the question arises, "Who is the chairman of the High school board?" Why, he is good old Dr. Samuel G. Huff, the man whom the News asked the voters to elect at the April election. Then another question naturally arises, and that is, "Why is the News now criticising the man whom it asked the voters to endorse for another term?" Nothing was said about this disagreeable feature of the case last week for the reason that it was hoped that Dr. Huff would see that he was wrong and correct his mistake, but he has declined to do so.

No man in this vicinity has been held in higher esteem by the editor of the News than has Dr. Huff, and it is with the deepest regret that it is now necessary to criticise his official actions as a member of the High school board.

It is not the intention of the News to offend any citizen. However, when a public question is up for solution, the News will always be found battling for what is believed to be right, regardless of friendship.

The News, as well as other friends of Dr. Huff, supported him for re-election because he was supposed to be favorable to V. B. Brown, principal of the school.

Dr. Huff has been the cause of Mr. Brown's removal, and attempts to justify his action by saying that he has changed his mind since the election—a startling statement for one standing in the twilight of an honorable career to make. Those who have known Dr. Huff feel satisfied that the statement is not his, but that of another who controls him and has caused his downfall. The News has not lost faith in Dr. Huff, if he stood free to act on his own initiative, but under present environments his services have ceased to be of any value to the community as a member of the High school board, as he is apparently holding the position for the sole purpose of retaining one member of the faculty, regardless of results—even being willing to sacrifice his good name to do so.

Dr. Huff knows that he had no moral right to vote against Mr. Brown without first consulting with the friends who elected him, believing that he would vote for him. If he found that so many things had occurred since the election that he could not support Mr. Brown, he owed it to himself and his friends to resign and let someone be selected who would carry out the wishes of those who elected him.

County Superintendent R. P. Mitchell states that Mr. Brown was a member of the Orange county board of education prior to going to Bakersfield, and that he considers him an educator of ability and a man of good character.

Mr. Brown has apparently been successful in the estimation of almost everyone in the district, except a certain member of the faculty who probably desires to succeed him, and whom, Dr. Huff stated last week, was an old friend of his wife.

The school is bigger than any man, and the one who fails to recognize this fact should not be a member of the board.

The American people love fair play, and justice between man and man, which is the chief cause for the great rally to the support of Mr. Brown. Had Dr. Huff notified Mr. Brown along in December or January that his resignation would be acceptable, so that he could have made application for another position, there probably would have been no objection to the action.

The matter was delayed until shortly before the time limit, June 10, and he was then discharged without being given any reason or any chance to defend himself against any hearsay evidence that might have accumulated against him. This shatters Mr. Brown's professional career and makes it extremely difficult for him to obtain another school, being discharged after but one year's service.

No serious complaints have been filed with the board against Mr. Brown, and the question has never been openly discussed at a board meeting. Therefore, could the liberty-loving citizens of the district have been expected to have taken any other action than that of championing the cause of a good man, who is apparently being deliberately robbed of his professional reputation?

TRUSTEES' MEETING MONDAY EVENING.

HEARING ON WEED CLEANING JULY 1.

There was a short session of the city trustees Monday night. There were but two matters given much attention, the resolution to destroy weeds and the matter of purchasing a challenge cup to be given the Newport Harbor Yacht Club.

Trustee R. H. Chapin was elected city clerk pro tem, and the other trustees had a lot of fun at "Doc's" expense when the weed resolution came up for final passage, as it was a little less than a mile long; but he was game, and waded through the pages of figures until it had been legally read. The date set for hearing on cleaning weeds was Monday evening, July 1st, at 8 o'clock.

Wm. C. O'Connor, representing the Chamber of Commerce, asked the Board to consider the question of purchasing a challenge cup, to be competed for by the Newport Harbor Yacht Club, and other similar organizations on the coast. After considerable discussion, the Board decided that it would be better to wait a year until the Newport Yacht Club had grown beyond the experimental stage; the matter being disposed of on motion of Trustee Vavra, seconded by Trustee Chapin.

City Manager Spencer stated it would be necessary to hire someone temporarily to collect garbage until a new contract had been awarded, and he was authorized to do so.

City Attorney Nelson reported that he was about half through with compiling city ordinances for publication, and asked the Board to either pass a license ordinance or pass an ordinance repealing all such ordinances of record, and there were several, and no repealing clause in them, making it necessary to publish several ordinances. The matter will be considered at the meeting next Monday night.

MRS. DAVID BRUSH PASSED AWAY MONDAY.

HAD RESIDED IN THIS VICINITY FOR 34 YEARS.

Mrs. David Brush passed away early Monday morning at the family residence, Eleventh and Palm, at the advanced age of 89 years, having been born in the State of New York in 1829. She was a member of the Mormon colony that crossed the plains in wagons drawn by oxen to the present site of Salt Lake City, and later came to San Bernardino, where she and Mr. Brush were married in 1882.

Mr. and Mrs. Brush came to this vicinity 34 years ago, settling on the peatlands, and are among the pioneers of the county, being widely known and highly respected. They have resided in Huntington Beach for 16 years. Mr. and Mrs. Brush have no children, but Mrs. Brush had a foster son, Geo. Morse of Fallbrook, Mrs. Pyrl W. Elliott being his daughter.

Funeral services were held in the undertaking parlors this (Friday) afternoon at 2 o'clock and were largely attended. The interment was in Huntington Beach cemetery.

Final Recital.

The following account is taken from the Pasadena Star-News of the final recital by Miss Mabel Young, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Young, residing north of Huntington Beach: "Miss Young won for herself the highest praise in her portrayal of Shylock in 'The Merchant of Venice,' a few weeks ago, and on Tuesday evening she well sustained the former excellence of her work by reading with intelligence and appreciation the lines of Zangwill's difficult drama, 'The Melting Pot.' Her impersonation of the various characters was natural and satisfying, while her dramatic presentation of the character of David was thrilling. Miss Young has a strong, well-modulated voice, which she uses artistically, combined with an expressive body and unusual poise. Her future is full of promise."

Woman's Club.

The feature of the meeting of the Woman's Club Tuesday afternoon was the talk by Miss Georgie Stebbins, member of the Grammar school faculty, on 'Household Economics." Miss Stebbins believed this important branch should be more generally taught in the elementary schools, as there were many girls who did not enter the High schools. Miss Stebbins said there would probably be fewer divorces if girls had a practical knowledge of household economics, as they were then prepared to take proper charge of a home. The program consisted of vocal solos by Miss Irene Hodge and Forest Alice DuBuis, who each have voices of good quality. Mildred Moore accompanied Miss Hodge. After a short business session

Although some fields of alfalfa have been plowed for cotton, hay is holding its own, as it is selling at $32.50 per ton.

Mr. Farmer and Rancher:

Implement Sheds—Implement Sheds

All over the country the farmers are taking to heart the advice of Secretary of Agriculture Houston to build sheds to protect their farm implements.

The marked advance in prices of all agricultural implements has at last proved to the farmer that to leave any machinery out in the weather is simply throwing good money away.

We would be pleased to have you call and let us show you what we have to build this shed.

To Our Customers

As a war measure, and in line with suggestions of the National Council of Defense, we find that we must eliminate all unnecessary calls and deliveries.

The laundry confronts the problem of continued efficient service in the face of greatly increased costs of production in all departments. One of the main cost items is that of delivery, and when to this is added repeated calls by the driver for bundles not ready the first time, and to collect small amounts from customers who did not pay for their work when delivered, a hardship is placed upon the laundry as well as upon the driver, who must give the time for such extra calls.

In view of these facts we must earnestly request our customers to co-operate with us; TO HAVE THEIR BUNDLES READY UPON THE REGULAR PICK-UP DAY AND TO PAY CASH FOR ALL WORK UPON DELIVERY.

This request is in no way a reflection upon the integrity or the financial standing of any customer; it is issued solely as a stimulus to the egorts of a few who have been thoughtlessly negligent in preparing their bundles and making their payments.

Very truly yours,

The American Laundry

WEEKLY GREETING.

I more than doubt whether, until our small services are sweet with divine affection, our great ones, if such we are capable of, will ever have the true Christian flavor about them.—George MacDonald.

SENATOR HENRY FORD.

The next United States Senator from the State of Michigan will be Henry Ford, one of the greatest pacifists in the Union prior to the declaration of war with Germany.

Henry Ford is a Republican, and at the suggestion of President Wilson, the Democrats of Michigan endorsed Mr. Ford for the nomination, Thursday, and he has accepted the honor.

By this move President Wilson has permanently spiked the guns of those who have been accusing him of being unduly partisan, as his action endorsing Mr. Ford stands without a parallel in the political history of the nation.

A short time ago the President appointed Charles E. Hughes to investigate alleged irregularities in the aerial department of the Government war machine. Mr. Hughes was President Wilson's opponent.

In view of these facts, the man who accuses the President of being a partisan should have a guardian appointed for him. The President is certainly to be commended for non-partisan attitude.

TWELVE STATES HAVE RATIFIED.

The legislature of the State of Arizona ratified the prohibition amendment to the constitution of the United States May 24, making the twelfth state to do so, or one-third of the required number to make it a part of the organic law of the Union. The vote in the lower house at Phoenix was 29 to 3, and the vote in the senate was unanimous.

The drys were defeated in Louisiana a few days ago, when the senate voted 20 to 20 on the amendment, which had previously passed the house, 77 to 44, with the proviso that the action may be rescinded at any time before Dec. 18, 1924. Louisiana is wet territory, and had not been counted upon as being one of the states necessary to mark a final victory for the foes of John Barleycorn.

The states and date of ratification follows: Mississippi, Jan. 9; Virginia, Jan. 10; Kentucky, Jan. 14; South Carolina, Jan. 23; North Dakota, Jan. 25; Maryland, Feb. 13; Montana, Feb. 19; Texas, March 4; Delaware, March 18; South Dakota, March 20; Massachusetts, April 2; Arizona, May 24.

IN BUENOS AIRES.

[Editorial from Christian Science Monitor.]

That wealth is a relative term goes, in these times, without argument. What is esteemed as wealth in one part of the world is not so regarded in another. What is esteemed as wealth on one social level falls far short of it on another. What was esteemed as wealth in the United States fifty years ago, will bear no such classification today. Within the memory of many still in active affairs, is the time when the possessor of $50,000 was accounted rich. Alexander T. Stewart was the "merchant prince" of the United States in the Civil War period. His place would be in the fourth or fifth rank among the mercantile millionaires of this period. Stewart's salesmen could board well at $4 a week, comfortably at $25 a month. He "kept" a carriage, which was a high sign of resource and rank in the '60s; heads of departments in establishments larger than his, and in some of the smaller cities of the country, now "keep" automobiles costing twice or three times as much as his victoria or brougham.

Wealth, riches, being "well off," means one thing in the big city of the United States today, and quite another thing in the small town or quiet hamlet. People in the "swim" of modern city life, who are not rich, spend more in a month to keep up appearances than people of substantial financial rating and social prominence in the smaller communities find it necessary to spend in a year, in order to keep pace with their class.

In Buenos Aires, so they say, the equivalent of $10 in United States currency has only about half the purchasing power of $10 in Boston. That is, a visitor from the United States to Buenos Aires, such is the difference in money value, or in prices, as it is [illegible] must expect to pay $10 for what $5 would buy in articles of wearing apparel, transportation, theater tickets, or anything else, provided you wish to keep up your normal scale of living. It is not that everything is twice as high in Buenos Aires as in Boston, but, rather, that money is worth only half as much in the former as it is in the latter city. If the dollar is not a standard of value in a nation, or even in a State, or even in a city, you cannot reasonably expect to find it a standard of value internationally. The value of the dollar is what you can get for it in the accommodation or commodity you wish or need. Dollars, or their equivalents, are more plentiful than they have ever been before in the world's history, so far as anybody knows, and that is why they are cheaper than ever before. That is why one must have so many more of them than formerly in order to be rich or wealthy. That is why it costs so much more to live in Boston now than it did ten years ago.

And that is why it costs so much more to live in Buenos Aires than in Boston, or in any other North American city. Money is cheap, very cheap, in Buenos Aires, because the almost marvelous enhancement of the land and its products, which made millionaires of cattle raisers and farmers, also diffused wealth among the entire population, and because this wealth is being expended with unparalleled lavishness on municipal and personal display and decoration. When a precious metal becomes common it ceases to be precious. What happened to silver in the United States and throughout the world a few years ago, is happening to gold at present in the Argentine Republic; it is losing largely its purchasing power by reason of its abundance. That is why one pays twice, and occasionally three times, as much for ordinary accommodation or commodities in Buenos Aires, at present, as for the same kind of service or article in the United States or Canada, and with prices swollen beyond the normal in the last-named countries also, and for the same reason.

What doth better become wisdom than to discern what is worth living?—Sir Philip Sidney.

RED CROSS BENEFIT CONCERT MONDAY EVE

IN ODD FELLOWS' HALL AT 8:30.

BY CLARA JANE CASTLETON

Assisted By Mrs. Valentine Cunningham and Rev. Floyd W. Farley; Admission Will Be Thirty-five Cents.

Arrangements have been completed for the big benefit concert to be given by Clara Jane Castleton, well-known soprano, in Odd Fellows' hall next Monday evening for the benefit of the Red Cross fund. Mrs. Castleton will be assisted by Mrs. Valentine Cunningham, director of the Valentine Conservatory of Music and Arts, pianist, and Rev. Floyd W. Farley, violinist. This combination insures a musical treat as well as an opportunity to make a small donation to the Red Cross fund.

In appearing Monday evening, Mrs. Castleton is responding to a popular demand. The concert will be under the auspices of the Huntington Beach branch of the American Red Cross society, and tickets are now on sale at 35c and 15c.

This will be the last opportunity to hear Mrs. Castleton before she leaves for San Francisco for an engagement of several weeks in the northern section of the state, under contract to appear in patriotic work in connection with the Countess Josephine de Castelvecchio, who has been Mrs. Castleton's manager for the past year in her musical work in the east.

Mrs. Cunningham is well known in Huntington Beach, having established her conservatory here more than a year ago, and is a pianist of ability and successful teacher.

Rev. Farley is pastor of the Christian church, and this will be his first public appearance with his violin. Those who have enjoyed his interpretation of the music of the masters speak highly of his work.

To this trio of artists will be added Miss Irene Engle, niece of Mrs. Castleton, who has pleased Huntington Beach audiences on many occasions.

1. Quando M'en Vo Soletta, from La Boheme (Puccini).
2. a Slumber Song (Spencer); b Elegie (Massanet); c The Fairy Pipers (Brewer).
3. Violin, Beethoven Sonata in F, Opus 24, Allegro and Adagio, Mr. Floyd Farley.
4. Barcarolle, Les Contes Des Hoffman .Offenbach).
5. Piano Selection, Mrs. Valentine Cunningham.
6. a Swanee River (Foster); b Who'll Buy My Lavender (Germain), by request; c My Laddie (Princess Troubetskoy.
7. Violin, Selections from "Norma" (Belleni), Mr. Floyd Farley.
8. The Angel's Serenade (Braga).

RED CROSS

The regular monthly meeting Wednesday afternoon showed that the number of garments for the past 30 days greatly exceeded the number for the prior month.

Mrs. H. A. Gallienne found a purse on the beach Memorial Day, and donated the reward given her by the owner to the Red Cross fund.

There are still some of the 10,000 pounds of potatoes donated by W. S. Hill unsold, and can be purchased at the Huntington Beach Nurseries.

JOHNSON AND KETTNER SAY THEY WILL HELP.

TALBERT IS WORKING HARD FOR RELIEF.

T. B. Talbert, chairman of the Board of Supervisors, who has been working for the appointment of the committee provided for in an amendment to the Rivers and Harbor bill, has received the following letters from Senator Johnson and Congressman Kettner:

Mr. T. B. Talbert, Chairman, Board of Supervisors of Orange County, Huntington Beach, Cal.

My dear Mr. Talbert:

I have received your letter of May 31st relating to the appointment of the commission provided for in the Newlands amendment to the Rivers and Harbors Bill. This matter has already been brought to my attention, and I am endeavoring to have the matter presented officially to the President in order that we may accomplish the desired results.

Sincerely,
HIRAM W. JOHNSON.

Mr. T. B. Talbert, Chairman, Board of Supervisors, Huntington Beach, Cal.

Dear Mr. Talbert:

I have your letter of May 31st, and wish to advise that Mr. Cuttle of Riverside is here now and we are doing everything we can to have this commission appointed. I want a Southern California man put on this Commission, as such a one would know all of our problems and would be in a position to be of great service to us. I hope we may be successful, as it means so much to us.

Cordially,
WILLIAM KETTNER.

SPORTSMAN SAYS GAME WARDEN IS WRONG.

Huntington Beach, June 14th.

Editor Huntington Beach News,

Dear Sir—In the issue of the Daily Register of the 12th, Mr. W. E. Adkinson, the game warden, states that he has consulted various authorities relative to fishing with nets off the coast at Huntington Beach, and he finds there is no law prohibiting seining in the waters about here with lampra or purse nets.

I would like to call attention to Section 636 of the Penal Code as amended in 1917, effective July 27th, 1917: "Every person who shall use or operate, or who shall assist in using or operating any net, trap, etc., for the purpose of taking or catching fish, etc., in the State of California at any time or in any manner except as herein provided, is guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not less than one hundred dollars or by imprisonment in the county jail not less than fifty days."

I wish to call the attention of the game warden to the fact that no provision is made in the above Section 636 whereby it shall be lawful to use any nets in Game District No. 4, off the coast of Orange county. You will note it says "except as herein provided." District No. 4 is not provided for, therefore it is unlawful to use a lampra or purse net. District No. 20 is also not provided for, which includes the east shores of Catalina.

There appears to be ample laws to protect the coast of Orange county from such fishing, if they are only put in force, and possibly if the authorities referred to would read over once more Section 636 of the Penal Code they may discover something that will meet this situation.

HUNTINGTON BEACH SPORTSMAN

THERE WILL BE A DANCE SATURDAY NIGHT.

IN THE DANCE PAVILION ON THE BEACH.

There will be a dance in the pavilion on the beach Saturday evening, June 15th. W. M. Hodge has been working on the floor this week and it will be found in much better condition than at the last dance.

NO MORE 52-RIDE BOOKS.

Willis R. Osborne, agent for the Pacific Electric Railway Co., states that the 52-ride books that have been sold by the company in the past will be discontinued, and a book good for 60 rides sold instead. In the past the 52-ride books have been good only for the month in which they were issued. The new books will be good for 40 days from date of issue.

Of course, the company must have the permission of the Railroad Commission before this change can be made effective.

MR. HILL DONATED BIG LOT OF POTATOES.

The statement was made in the Red Cross items last week that W. S. Hill had donated 800 pounds of potatoes to the Red Cross. There were 340 lug boxes, or about 10,000 pounds, which is the largest individual donation yet made to the Red Cross in this district.

"RAFFLES" WILL BE HERE SATURDAY NIGHT

"The Sudden Gentleman" For Sunday Night.

"POLLY OF THE CIRCUS" NEXT THURSDAY NIGHT.

Manager Chas. H. Endicott has some big attractions to offer patrons of the Princess theatre the coming week. For instance, "Raffles," the man that baffles everybody, will be the attraction Saturday evening, and "The Sudden Gentleman" Sunday night. Thursday night Mae Marsh will be here in "Polly of the Circus." The admission Thursday night will be 25c for adults and 10c for children.

Saturday Night.

"Raffles," with John Barrymore in the title role, is a play that is attracting much attention. A world wide scene of adventure. A chase across two continents. A love theme so intense as to cause a gasp. The women, in all his gentlemanly crookedness, simply adore him. The men count upon him as a "pal." But it is a woman who almost places him behind prison bars. He is such a boy, such a lovable fellow though, that even this woman's jealous attempts to thwart him fail. You don't know why you admire him, but you do. You leave the theatre and figure to yourself, "What would I do in Raffles' case?" You witness the fact that he would sacrifice himself for a friend and you cannot understand such complicity of nature. He binds you to him with his magnetism. He steals from you if you are rich, and gives to you if you are poor.

Sunday Night.

He was heir to five millions left by his uncle. But Garry Garrity, suddenly elevated to riches from his humble life as the village blacksmith in a little Irish town, was the most unhappy man in the world. His uncle's lawyers had written him that he had been left an estate valued at five millions, and happily donning his Sunday clothes, he had set sail for the promised land.

Then this uncouth Irishman, with a heart of pure gold, met his young ward, beautiful Louise Evans, Chicago debutante and society favorite. He fell head over heels in love with her but she sneered at his blunders in etiquette and rebuffed his advances. Garry persisted and finally, after changing his entire mode of life to please the exacting girl, won her consent and they were to be married.

Then came blissful and happy moments for this young Irish giant. Everyone was kind to him, first as the owner of the Garrity millions, and later for himself, for they found him a diamond in the rough. Better than all else he had overcome all obstacles and slipped a ring on the engagement finger of the girl he loved with all his manful heart.

Now it was all over. She had given him back the ring—fairly hurled it at him—and demanded that he give his name to shield Mrs. Hawtry, the widow whose good name her fiance declared Garrity had besmirched. "Don't do what a gentleman would do but what any man would do," had been Louise's scathing arraignment of him. What was he to do? If he could not have Louise for his own he could at least do her bidding. So with a heavy heart Garry had offered his name to the widow, though he knew not why he should. But fate was kind to Garry.

How he is snatched from this great unhappiness in time to foil the well-laid plot of a fortune-hunting nobleman and restored to Louise's good graces is the surprise which furnishes the climax for "The Sudden Gentleman," the Triangle play featuring Wm. Desmond.

Thursday Night.

Even with the most elaborately equipped studios the director of the modern-day motion picture spectacle is frequently forced to take extreme measures to make a production, so varied are the requirements of the screen scenario.

Striking evidence of this occurred in the making of "Polly of the Circus," Goldwyn Pictures' first great production, of which Mae Marsh is the star.

For the proper production of Margaret Mayo's play of circus life it was, of course, necessary to have a circus. All the action of the story took place in or about the big top of a circus, with clowns, animals and other elements of "the big show" dominating the plot.

But there was no circus in the Goldwyn studios in New Jersey. The question, then, was how to get one. And this is how the necessary circus was acquired:

Charles T. Horan, who directed this huge picturesque spectacle, was passing through a little town in New Jersey when he saw a small circus coming into the town. It was a circus traveling by wagon through the small towns of New Jersey; just such a circus as the play required. There was very shortly a conference between representatives of Goldwyn and the owners of the circus, and an agreement was reached whereby Goldwyn leased the circus for a long enough period to complete the production of "Polly of the Circus." Sufficient remuneration was given the circus owner to appease him for the loss of his dates, and his show went bodily into the employ of Goldwyn.

It was with this equipment that Director Horan was able to put on a realistic parade through the streets, in which bands played and animals roared, and with which he was later able to stage the morning arrival and night-time departure of a circus in a small town. Finally a regular performance was given, with Mae Marsh and the other members of the cast playing the roles called for in the scenario.

Mr. Horan was, therefore, in possession of a well rehearsed circus outfit. He did not have to train men even to drive stakes or raise a centre pole. He had everything to make a realistic circus setting, including even the shell game men. The little circus lacked but one element. It had no elephants.

So the famous herd of Powers' trained elephants were rented from the New York Hippodrome. These elephants play baseball, tag and perform dozens of stunts in the picture, and there are many other performing animals, including the roller-skating bear, the clown's stubborn donkey that refuses to do anything, and the man-like chimpanzee that smokes cigaretts and rides bareback like the daring human riders.

CALIFORNIA LEADS IN BEET SUGAR PRODUCTION.

LESS FACTORIES BUT GREATER CAPACITY.

The following list of beet sugar factories is taken from a recent issue of The Sugar Bowl, and shows that while there are less sugar factories in the State of California than in Utah and Colorado, the daily slicing capacity of the 15 in this state is slightly greater than the 16 in Colorado and far more than the 16 in Utah. With the completion of the two new factories being constructed at Springville and Gunnison, Utah, that state will lead all others in the number, but the average capacity is much smaller than those of California or Colorado.

It will be noted that the capacity of the Spreckles sugar factory at Spreckles, Cal., is larger than any other two factories in the United States, excepting the plant of the American Beet Sugar Co. at Oxnard, Cal., the next largest factory on the continent.

There are but six beet sugar factories in the United States with a larger daily capacity than the factory of the Holly Sugar Corporation at Huntington Beach, being the two already mentioned in California, and those at Billings, Mont., Scottsbluff, Neb., Ft. Collins and Longmont, Col., all owned by the Great Western Sugar Co., the company operating more factories as well as a greater daily capacity than any other in the Western Hemisphere. This big concern owns no less than ten factories in the Centennial state, three in Nebraska, one in Wyoming and two in Montana, making a total of 16 factories, with a daily capacity of 20,450 tons of beets, or slightly more than all the big factories in this state. The next largest concern is the American Beet Sugar Co., operating six factories, with a capacity of 7400 tons; followed by the Holly Sugar Corporation with the same number of factories, including the Sheridan Sugar Co. at Sheridan, Wyoming, and the one at Grand Junction, operated under a lease, with a daily capacity of 6100 tons, the one here being the largest.

STUDENT BODY NOTES.

(Grace Foley, Press Reporter)

On Thursday, June 6th, the regular Student Body assembly was an exceedingly interesting one. After having called the meeting to order, the president, Mr. McCoy, gave the meeting over to Adele Johnston, president of the Freshman class, who announced the following numbers of the program given in an extremely interesting way by the Freshmen. It can be well said that the Freshmen are "right there" in every activity and particularly skilled in the art of entertaining by programs. The numbers were as follows:

Duet, Mary Crane, Elsie Lake.

"My First Impressions of High School," Harold Erwin.

Solo, "My Antonio Boy," Minnie Grana.

"The Yankee Still Ahead" and "The Land Army," Marguerite Wright.

Playlet, "School Girl Minstrels," Margaret French, Manager.

Mr. McCoy then resumed charge of the meeting, and the monograms were awarded to the debaters by the coach, Miss Wilson. Those receiving medals were Glenna Wright, Grace Foley and John Murdy. Athletic Coach Sprotte gave tennis, baseball and basketball monograms to the athletic men worthy of the monograms.

The installation of Student Body officers then ensued, Mr. McCoy in charge, and those who know our Student Body president realize that officers installed by him should feel it a privilege to serve to the utmost of their ability. Hearty applause followed each installation, and cries of "Speech, speech" brought the new officers to the stage, and each of them responded cleverly, each expressing the desire to fill his or her place in the best way possible.

Mr. McCoy then announced the enlistments of Jack Given and Albert Jumper, praising highly the impulses which prompted such action on the part of our fellow Student Body members. Unfurling the service flag amid mad applause, the president asked the boys to hold high the school's emblem of loyalty to which their stars should so soon be added. This being done, the assembly stood at salute while singing "The Star Spangled Banner."

If there be any who believe our High school not responsive in every fibre to the country's call, let them visit any one of our assemblies and we are certain they will be convinced of the truth.

On Thursday, June 13th, the last Student Body assembly will occur, at which time the honor pins shall be awarded to retiring officers of the organization. Installation of Girls' League officers will be one of the big features.

The Seniors take this opportunity of announcing several changes in plans for Commencement week as published in the June 7th edition of the News. We are sorry, yet proud, to say that the play, "The Butterflies," will not be staged at all. Due to the number of our boys in the service—both army and land army—we were forced to choose our masculine characters from other classes. Two of those chosen were Jack Given and Albert Jumper. But we are glad to give up our play if by so doing we may add two units of man power to the greatest army ever destined to redeem oppressed people.

Hence Class Night will occur on the evening of June 19th; and, contrary to custom, Class Night will be for the enjoyment of all who may be interested in the farewell frolic of the Class of '18. There will be no charge!

Baccalaureate will occur, as announced, on Sunday, June 16th, at 3 p. m., in the M. E. church.

We had anticipated having Dr. Selecman of the Trinity M. E. church, Los Angeles, to deliver the commencement address, but very recently we received word from his secretary informing us that he is en route to France. Professor Tully C. Knowles, whom we heard at the Community Educational Fair, will address us.

Incidentally, the Student Body lately received a letter from our latest heroes, and they are in excellent spirits. Jack and Bert send high commendation for the drill they received as cadets in our "invincible infantry," and they, too, can laugh at the fellow who doesn't know his right foot from his left. Long live our heroes and our hero-making High school!

GOLDWYN BOOKINGS AT THE PRINCESS.

"Pop" has the following attractions to offer:

June 20th, "Polly of the Circus," Mae Marsh.

July 4th, "Dodging a Million," Mabel Normand.

July 18th, "The Cinderella Man," Mae Marsh.

July 25th, "Fighting Odds," Maxine Elliott.

guished honor to be of some assistance in educational work, and he hoped that the occasion would not be the end of the education of any of the graduates, but just a step. They had been in the school eight years, and he hoped that all of them would be in the High school next year.
